Paolo Porelli

Contemporary images that provide access to an archetypal dimension of reality, and focus on the evocative capacity of figuration. They serve as ironic commentaries on the excesses and obsessions of global society and the enormous influence that material has on the individual. The statues express the condensation of a visual language contaminated by surrealist solutions, pop proliferations, and archaic symbolism. With clay, while expressing modern concepts, I can maintain contact with the archaic roots of the material, amalgamating historical memory and present amnesia.

For the creation of these sculptures, made during the Blanc de Chine IACC Residency, I began with two prototypes (male and female), realised with 3-D printing from scans of actual people. First moulds were made from the models, then the sculptures were slip-cast. I had the privilege of working with local artisans who, using traditional methods and techniques, provided me with access to the extensive repertoire of Classical Chinese figurative art.

Specific elements or details of individual figures in the workshop were chosen and then slip-cast. The original significance of these fragments is subverted by their placement on the face of the 21st century figures as a kind of mask, emphasising the obliviousness of contemporary mankind. In other cases, traditional elements are clasped in the hand as citations of a time-revered past but decontextualized for the modern world. Traditional bases, normally reserved for Eastern deities, continue to serve the same function but in combination with Western figures, they lose their ancient context but gain a new and unexpected aesthetic. I choose to leave the porcelain unglazed to exalt its natural beauty in which the raw material shines through.

伪装

作品中的当代形象直指现实原型，富有具象艺术引人联想的特点。这些形象讽刺地表现了对全球社会的过度痴迷以及物质对个人的巨大影响。雕塑中高度精炼的视觉语言还伴有超现实主义手法、流行文化的影响以及古代元素的象征。这一黏土创作表达的是现代概念，同时与这种原料的古代根源联系起来，在追溯历史记忆的同时表达现代人的健忘。

在驻地创作雕塑期间，我首先通过真人扫描和3D打印做出了两个原型（一男一女）。根据模特身材制成了初步的模具后，再浇铸成型。我还有幸请到了几位当地工匠——他们使用了一些传统的方法和工艺，让我接触到了博大精深的中国经典具象艺术。

我们还在工作坊中选择并浇铸了个别雕塑的一些特殊元素或细节部分。为了强调现代人的健忘，这些部分被当作面具，遮住了这些二十一世纪的头像，颠覆了它们原本的重要性；还有一些传统的元素被紧紧攥在雕塑手中，表现出源远流长、但与现代社会脱节的往昔岁月。通常来说只有东方神像才有传统底座，这里我把传统底座与西方人像结合在一起承担相同的作用，虽缺失其历史背景，但缔造了一种全新的、意想不到的美感。我想通过原料本身的光泽突出其自然美，因此没有给陶瓷作品上釉。

Paolo Porelli :

Europe and here are completely different, two different worlds, which to me works like a stimulation. Its great material blanc de chine - impressive and fabulous - but also very demanding. I was thought about how I can use these traditional forms in new ways. I wanted to understand how I could adopt my sculptural ideas to the traditional Chinese sculpture.

这里和欧洲截然不同，是不同的文化和不同的形式，这两个不同的世界激发着我的灵感。“中国白”是一种绝佳的材料，令人叹为观止，但也难以驾驭。这让我思考着如何将传统的形式重新表述，如何将我的创作理念与中国传统雕塑相融合。
